

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In an operating unit for an electrophotographic printing or copying system, the operating unit comprises a graphical user interface with input and/or output fields, with help of which an operation of the electrophotographic printing or copying system occurs. A user account is selectable from at least two preset user accounts. A setting of at least one input and/or output field of the graphical user interface is adjustable for at least one user account.

CHI\4064051.1